OAKBORO HIGH SCHOOL

FOREWORD

This the 1950 edition of The Oak, which we offer you, is the second volume.

In it we have worked to give to you the most outstanding events during this year in Oakboro High School. May this be a constant reminder of memories we wish never to forget.

For most of the staff, the gates of Oakboro High School we hope will close behind us this year, but we hope this will act as a key to reopen the gates in the future.

Success to you and may this help serve as an inspiration.

DEDICATION

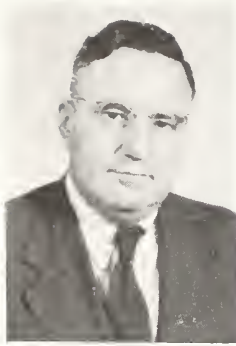

To you we owe our loyalty, devotion, and appreciation for the sacrifices that you have made in order that we could reach this climatic point in our careers.

Realizing that this is the open gate for greater opportunities, we pledge to you our efforts to strive to make us worthy of you.

Our Parents, to you
we dedicate this our
1950 edition

CLASS POEM

Four long years ago, as Freshmen, we the Seniors of 1950
All embarked together on an unknown untried sea, dark and thrifty.
The ship on which we sailed was "Old Oakboro High",
With a splendid crew of teachers, ever ready, standing by.
O, sometimes we grew discouraged on this voyage strange and new,
There were always some to aid us of the ever watchful crew.
We are proud we took this voyage on the sea of Education vast.
Far in the port of Graduation we have landed safe at last.
And we now meet here together, hearts filled with joy and pain.
For we know that we shipmates never shall sail again.
Now each must set sail alone on the treasureful sea of life.
Let us try to be worthy, most courteous in this strife,
And now dear mates, the time has come when we all must say good-by.
Let us never forget each other, nor dear old Oakboro High.

J. T. Hinson

CLASS SONG

Adieu to Oakboro School

Our class rooms, our teachers, the school we hold dear,
The bell for our classes as a warning we hear,
Our friends and our classmates, the joys that we share,
Are ending so soon, but they'll always be there.
The picnics, the parties, the happiness we knew.
Wherever we go we'll be thinking of you.
Through hard ships and trials we'll never give in.

So long to old Oakboro we'll miss you so,
But we'll always remember wherever we go,
The things we were taught, to stand for the truth.
And so to old Oakboro, we're saying adieu,
To Oakboro, our classmates, we're saying adieu.

CLASS HISTORY

It came to pass in the fullness of time that the class of 1946 did gather upon the 27th day of September for a trip through the Oakboro High School, much famed for its dissemination of knowledge. They had collected a goodly amount of necessary baggage, in the way of bits of geography, sections of arithmetic, bunches of dates, fresh from the tree of History, packages of Civics, and a supply of Grammar. Each, moreover had the required ticket - a certificate of promotion from the last station, the Eighth Grade.

And it came to pass that promptly upon the stroke of eight-thirty they did answer the Conductor's cry of "All Aboard" and start out on the upgrade in the Train of Knowledge. They were given places in the "Freshman" section and they found the train equipped with a fine dining car whose capable chefs supplied them with much food for their mental growth and development. They did choose, as president of their group, C. J. Hartsell, who should see that they gained sufficient class pep, loyalty and school spirit; while Conductor J. F. Turner saw to it that they properly digested the meals served them by the Faculty Chefs and Porters.

At the end of the first year, having successfully met the requirements of Freshmen passengers, they were transferred to the Sophomore car and with a membership of forty-two, bravely endured the jolting of the rougher travel. C. J. Hartsell was again chosen president of the trip, and the journey was livened by stops for a number of parties and occasions of gaiety. Pranks were frequently indulged in when the Conductor, Head Brakeman and Porters were looking after other sections of the Train.

With the passing of time they were again shifted, being placed in the Junior Coach, with thirty-three jolly members of whom Passenger C. J. Hartsell was re-elected president. Several passengers, Imogene Poplin Morton, Ruth Eudy Whitley, Frances Tucker Ward, and Hilda Eller dropped off at side stations and did not resume the trip. Much enjoyed stops at Pleasure Resorts included parties and Junior-Senior Banquet. Some trips were indulged in, to the Athletic Fields, where numerous passengers became proficient in football, basketball, and other games. The mental good contained many morsels hard to chew and digest, but with the Faculty Chefs and Porters declaring that "It must be accomplished or we'll throw you off the Train," the Junior passengers nobly did their duty.

Then came the happy day when the group was transferred to the Senior Coach with increased privileges and responsibilities. C. J. Hartsell had done so well as president of the class for the last three years that he was re-elected for their last year. The grade became steeper, the journey rougher, but ah, the glorious view as the Class of 1950 looked out on Commencement Station looming in the near distance. Those Senior passengers who had been companions during the long journey became even more closely united in school spirit and class bonds. They came to appreciate more fully the supervision given them by Conductor J. L. Haynes, Head Brakeman, Mrs. Frank Harward and the capable Faculty Chefs and Porters. They enjoyed the stops made for the Senior Play, parties, and the annual Junior-Senior Banquet. They grew quite puffed up over the records of certain members in the side trips to Athletic Field, the Oratorical Stage and The Glee Club Pavilion. They successfully passed the close inspection of the examiners who checked up on their baggage of Knowledge, and they now stand ready for a final transfer. At Commencement Station, on the Mount of Learning, they leave the Senior Coach to become passengers on various roads leading through the Valley of Opportunity in the Land of the Great Beyond, to the cities of Success, Fame, and Worthy Achievement.

CLASS PROPHECY

Having been required, by mandate of the class of 1950, to forecast the future of these illustrious Seniors, I journeyed me to the far country where dwelt the Three Fates, the sisters, who, in the famous early days of gods and goddesses, presided over the destinies of human beings. Fair to look upon were they and most fascinating in their skillful manipulation of the threads of life. Clotho, the Fate who was present at births, held the distaff which supplies the slender strands; Lachesis spun the thread; Atropos, with shining shears ever ready, cut these threads of Life with a fateful snip.

"Fair Fates," I implored; "Ye who preside over the destinies of the Class of 1950, wilt thou not reveal to me the happenings of our future years? It is decreed that I must know."

Atropos shook a fair and determined head. "Not so," she answered. "Not to mere mortals do we divulge these secrets of Life." Clotho gave a nod of assent, but Lachesis spoke entreatingly.

"This request comes from an excellent class," she said. "They have a most satisfactory record in High School; they are greatly esteemed by their Faculty, and they have walked before their schoolmates with diligence and perfection of manner. Let us grant them a knowledge of the future."

After a few moments of objection and discussion it was decided to give the class of 1950 a glimpse of the unfoldings of the future, which interesting view I now reveal to you, endorsed by the Fates who preside over our destinies.

We have within our Senior ranks future teachers, nurses, housewives, bankers, farmers, authors, statesmen, mechanics, beauty contestants, talented singers, truck drivers, and successful business men.

This prophetic vision shows us C. J. Hartsell as a physical education teacher, Doris Crayton as head of the Home Economics Department of Oakboro School, and Melvin and Junior Hartsell are to become owners of a new Hartsell and Hartsell Funeral Home of Oakboro. Dwight Hill and J. T. Hinson, who are so fond of farming, are to win fame as the world's most noted farmers. Bobby Curlee, who always loved to drive fast, will be champion of the Stockcar Races, held in Minnesota, in 1960.

Edwin Coble will be satisfied to rule as mayor of Oakboro, while M. L. Barbee will be equally satisfied to rule over Oakboro as the Policeman, but Lowell Hill, will take his place as County Commissioner. Cora Lee Whitley, class historian, will write a "History of the Achievements of the Class of 1950," which will have an enormous sale. Melvin Crisco, Harold Huneycutt, and R. Lee McIntyre will be found driving transfer trucks cross country.

Due to their ability to sing, Martha Huneycutt and David McClellan will become noted singers. Edward Efird will be found as president of the Carolina Trailways Coach Company. Pearl Morgan and Doris Drye will walk the halls of a large hospital as nurses. Glenn Smith will be very happy as head mechanic of Oakboro's most progressive service station. J. B. Edwards will be the banker of this class due to his ability to handle business matters with the greatest of ease. Owner of Oakboro's new Billiard Hall will be Herman Kirby, and Harold Curlee as his best pool shark.

Our only married member of the senior class, Ted Parker, is destined to have good luck and become part owner of Huneycutt's Cash Store. Beatrice Crisco, our Miss Merry Christmas representative of 1948, will be a contestant for "Miss North Carolina" in 1960.

There is one member destined to be a farmer's wife; this will be either Sara Katherine Whitley or Eunice Kennedy. Aileen Snyder and Gloria Smith will eventually become happy widows who have all sorts of good times on the money left by their accommodating weaker halves. To Mary Frances Tucker and Odene Burgess belong the distinction of being the class spinsters--not that they had no offers of marriage, but because no man measured up to their high ideals.

Odene Burgess

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

"We, the Senior Class of 1950, of the Oakboro High School, County of Stanly and State of North Carolina, being of sound mind, realizing our stay here will soon be over, do hereby declare and make known to all concerned that this is our last will and testament:

1st. To our principal, Mr. Haynes, we bequeath our respect and gratitude for his guidance for the last two years.

2nd. To the faculty we express our appreciation for their many kind acts and knowledge they have given us during our stay here at Oakboro School.

3rd. To our janitor who has been a friend to all we leave a sincere feeling of gratitude.

4th. To the Juniors we leave our place as Seniors at Oakboro High in hopes they live up our good name.

5th. To the Sophomores we leave our literary knowledge in hopes they turn out as many geniuses as we did.

6th. To the Freshmen Class the Seniors leave their notes containing all the methods of getting along with the High School Teachers, since we have spent four years trying them all out.

7th. The Seniors having individual and valuable possessions do hereby bequeath them as follows:

Cora Lee Whitley leaves her place on the cheering squad to Lucille Furr.

Lowell Hill leaves his ability to have a different girl every night to Kenneth Whitley.

Gloria Smith wills her place as the neatest girl in the Senior Class to Carol Burris.

Mary Frances Tucker leaves her ability to catch a boyfriend to Lynette Whitley.

Junior Hartsell wills his place as the most eligible bachelor in the Senior Class to Gaston Austin.

Melvin Crisco wills his ability to keep a secret to Lewis "Bud" Klutz.

Bobby Curlee wills his slow and easy way with cars to Blane Tucker.

Harold Curlee bequeaths his surplus A's to W. L. Smith, hoping they will do him more good.

Glenn Smith leaves his good looks to Grady Whitley.

Aileen Snyder bequeaths her lovely complexion to Frances Hahn.

Pearl Morgan leaves her place as storekeeper to Annyce Hathcock.

Herman Kirby bequeaths his pleasing personality to Jerry Poplin.

M. L. Barbee leaves his place as quietest boy in the Senior Class to Jack Tucker.

Sara Katherine Whitley leaves her ability to study during gossip sessions to Christine Burgess.

Odene Burgess leaves to Jean Morton her place on the winning basketball team of Oakboro.

C. J. Hartsell leaves his leadership ability to Reece Allen.

J. B. Edwards wills his thoughtfulness and nice manners to Lenonard Howell.

Ted Parker bequeaths his place as most popular in the Senior Class to Joyce McClellan.

Melvin Hartsell bequeaths his wave clamps to Morris Griffin hoping they will do him more good.

Doris Crayton leaves her place as wittest in the Senior Class to Gwendola Williams.

Gloria Smith leaves her sweet disposition to Avinell Barbee.

Harold Huneycutt wills his seat on the Back row in English to David Barnhardt.

Eunice Kennedy leaves her place as most dignified Senior to Rachel Huneycutt.

Dwight Hill leaves his maps of Union County to C. J. Lambert.

Edward Eford wills his waves and curls to Maurice Drye.

Martha Huneycutt bequeaths her love letters to Betty Ruth Austin.

Odene Burgess leaves her place as most studious girl in the Senior Class to Jeannette Huneycutt.

R. Lee McIntyre leaves his beloved Geometry book to Thurman Whitley.

Bobby Curlee leaves his girls from Ridgecrest to Frank Springer.

Eunice Kennedy bequeaths her ball suit to Yvonne Kennedy.

Beatrice Crisco leaves her conceitedness to Betty Allmon.

J. T. Hinson leaves his old typewriter, "Old Faithful" to Kenneth Kennedy and hopes he has better results.

Gloria Smith bequeaths her friendly smile to Joyce McClellan.

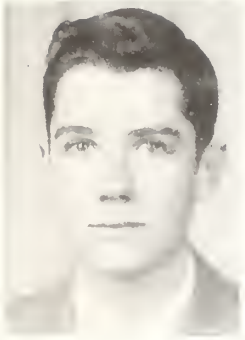

Pearl Morgan, Doris Drye, and Mary Frances Tucker leave their places in Drivers Education to Mildred Whitley, Hattie Huneycutt, and Molly Foreman.

Aileen Snyder leaves her personality to Betty Hatley.

Odene Burgess leaves her French II book to Dema Ree Huneycutt.
